Alina Delcid | ART466 Project 2 Proposal

"France: The Most Traveled Country in the World"

For project two, I would like to create a website about the travel history of France. In terms of specific topics and sections, I would like to include a brief intro section with fun facts/statistics or top things people do in France (cuisine, culture, seasonal), another page for specific things to do/visit in France, a visitor's guide, and a booking section. Each page will be on separate pages within the website, with navigation to them from the nav bar.

For the website's layout, I plan to have each topic or section (as listed above) on separate pages within the website. There will also be a footer with more information. I likely will find an existing logo online of something that has to do with France or traveling. I plan to also go for a modern yet "fancy" vibe since that is what I think of when I think about France. The headers will likely be serif fonts and the body text will be sans serif. Lastly, the color scheme will likely be white with another accent color such as a golden color (this might change later on).

Website of inspiration:

https://www.enchantingtravels.com/destinations/europe/france/