Project 2 Proposal

For project two, I want to design research project/research filled website about Greek myths and how they are misrepresented in modern media or about the soldiers who were given a Medal of Honor and how they achieved it. I'm still not 100% sure which direction I plan to go for the research project, but these are the ones I feel the strongest about. For both ideas, I plan on attaching pictures and videos to keep the viewers entertained and to help them learn more. I also want to keep the color scheme more minimalistic and use neutral colors because I feel with both topics bright colors wouldn't match the overall theme of the project.

For both ideas, I feel my audience would be people interested in learning more about the topic, for example, for the Greek Myth idea it would be kids, students, and anyone who loves Ancient Greek Mythology stories. For the Medal of Honor idea, it would students, veterans, family and friends of the Medal of Honor recipients, and anyone who is interested about the topic. I think the best way to present these ideas would be to use videos and lots of pictures. I want the design of the overall website to be simple and to not overtake the topic of the website because I want the topic to be seen as the first and most important aspect.
