

This art exhibit will be showcasing paintings in multiple mediums. The artists will be Elyse Carmichael, Kristen Konefal, and Nike Adawi. This art show is located in NYC at the Ceres Gallery. The theme of this show is upcoming female painters in their 20s and is called “Women To Watch.” The website is going to have a clean/calm look to it. It will make you feel like you are at the gallery itself. This website will be straightforward and easy to navigate, just as walking through a gallery should be. However, some pops of color will be used on the website to bring the look of the works together.
