2 Paragraphs about Project 2

Jillian Buonsignore

For my research website, I would love to do a children's website. Space interests me a lot and I think I could do a fun and whimsical kids' website about this topic. The thing about making a website for kids is that you have to create something colorful and captivating that is also easy to navigate and use. I think the topic of space has a lot of colorful and dynamic aspects that can be used to keep the attention of young kids. A struggle I could potentially have with the content of the website. For instance, there are a lot of things that are very complex in this topic, and I need to be sure I'm keeping it at a digestible level.

What I would like to do with this website is more complex than what I have done before, and I one of my pieces for this website. I think it would also be interesting to use colorful graphics as buttons and links to other pages on the website. I also want to do more technical things than I did with my last website. Seeing my classmate's work made me want to add more dynamic pieces that make using the website more fun and have more things for viewers to actually use on the site itself.
