

Project 2 Proposal

For this project, I want to do research on Angura, a type of avant-garde and underground theater movement from Japan.

Since not a lot of people will be familiar with it, I believe the best way to present it would be by a brief introduction to the movement (what exactly is it and what it entails), the history, key figures, and some examples. The design I have in mind for it is for the website to have a mostly black background and a grungy aesthetic, since those are what are typically associated with angura.

I will be mainly using images that I find online, since what I am researching is a mainly visual format and there is a lot of poster design within the genre. though I am considering making an illustration inspired by angura.
