Project 2 Proposal

For my second project I want to research New York City. I want to discuss how it has been a place of opportunity for people in the past, but also today. I want to talk about how Ellis Island was such an important place for those immigrating to America and also seeing the Statue of Liberty. I would also like to talk about how it is seen as a place of opportunity even today, especially with it being a large city. There are many job opportunities for various careers, like those in the arts and more specifically graphic design. I would also like to talk about the various tourist attractions around the city, such as Central Park, Times Square, the Empire state building, and Broadway.

I want to make this site a place for people to learn more about the city itself and the history behind things too. If possible I would also like to add a personal touch to it. I have always loved New York City and it has been a dream of mine to work and live there one day. I've had this dream since I was seven years old. I also was able to visit Ellis Island when I was younger and see the names of family members on the wall. This showed that they had passed through Ellis Island and came to America to start my family here.
