Project 2: Research Project Ideas

My research website will be showcasing historical facts about the Japanese Tea Ceremony. The site will include a slideshow with high quality images for a few of the pages, facts about ceremony, and sources used in the makings of the site. Each of the images will be from various websites and Pexels. The color and theme are still being brainstormed, but no logo is needed. There will be a video that will be in the site that is found from any of the sources. Most importantly, the site will be responsive, so it will function not just on a computer or laptop, but also on a phone.
