

I've known how to crochet since I was 12 years old. My grandmother taught me and I would like to teach other people. With my website, I want to make a beginner friendly website with crochet history, stitches for beginners, patterns for beginners, where to buy yarn and hooks, and how selling and pricing work.

I want to include all of these because I think they are all important for beginners. I have never sold any of my things just because I never understood it and now, almost 10 years later, I am finally figuring it out. I know selling isn't for everyone, but I think its good knowledge to have.
