

my idea is to explore birds and the sounds they make.

i love nature and am always fascinated of how different and beautiful they sound. especially in the morning. the spring comes when birds start to sing before the sun rises.

for my website there will be pictures and audio files of different birds.